D. A. R. Meeting.
A delightfully pleasant meeting of the D. A. R. chapter was held on Monday afternoon with Mrs. J. R. Vandiver at her lovely home "Runnymede."

Mrs. Vandiver, the regent, presided and several matters of business were discussed and disposed of.

The following interesting program was then given: Piano solo, Mrs. Steele. A paper describing the early religious history of Anderson county was read by Mrs. Rufus Burriss. Mrs. Chester Plant read a poem by Kipling, "The Last of the Light Brigade." A historical paper was read by Mrs. A. P. Johnstone. The last number of the program was a sweet solo by Miss Mab Bonham.

During the social half hour Mrs. Vandiver served her guests with a dainty salad course ending a very pleasant afternoon.

Miss Bessie Majors went to Honea Path yesterday afternoon to spend the week-end with friends.

Mrs. Humbert Entertains.
Mrs. John B. Humbert delightfully entertained a few friends on Tuesday afternoon at a Rook party. Her pretty home was unusually attractive on this occasion, bright with beautiful chrysanthemums and cut flowers.

After several merry games the tables were cleared and the guests served an elegant salad course. Among those present were: Mesdames Dave Beatty, Walter Beatty, Claude Earle, Clarence Brock, W. H. Nardin, T. C. Howard, J. W. Speake, Fuller Watson, Minnie Milford, J. I. Brownlee, J. M. Evans, Misses Bessie Major, Bonnie Orr, Irene and Clara Osborne.

Show for Miss Anderson.

The regular October meeting of the Junior Philanthropic class of the First Presbyterian church was held on Monday afternoon with Mrs. Raymond Fretwell at her pretty home on Franklin street. These ladies planned to make it a surprise shower for Miss Annie Anderson one of their most faithful members, who will be married on November 4 to Dr. Pruitt and right charmingly did they carry out their plans. All gathered promptly at 4 o'clock and with a few invited friends were soon busy dressing the dolls for the doll bazaar they expect to have some time soon. While happily busy in this way the door was thrown open and to the sweet strains of the wedding march a dear little bride and groom in dainty array, entered carrying a huge bouquet of chrysanthemums, showered with dainty articles in heart shaped bags, and presented it to the bride-elect.

The little couple were Master Sam Fretwell and little Miss Harriet Holman. Just behind came the little maid of honor, little Miss Elizabeth Burriss, bearing a basket also filled with presents for the bride. After enjoying her gifts the bride stood on the landing on the stairs and threw her bouquet to be caught by the one fate the fortunate "catcher."

Mrs. Fretwell served her guests with an elegant salad course, hot rolls and coffee.

Rose Hill Afternoon.

The first of a series of charming occasions to be given by the Rose Hill club was held on Monday afternoon, which was card afternoon at the club. Refreshments were served and the games were unusually pleasant and interesting. At 7 o'clock a number of gentlemen, and other ladies came out and at 7 o'clock a delightful hot supper was served in a pleasantly informal manner, after which the evening was spent in dancing by some and playing cards by others. The members of the club plan to have the card afternoon followed by hot supper every two weeks, on Tuesday and they promise to be very popular occasions.

Halloween Party.

Never was a Halloween idea more effectively and delightfully carried out than on Friday evening when Messrs. Martin Neely and Pat Sullivan entertained their friends at a Halloween party at the home of the former on River street. The house was most effectively decorated with pictures of black cats, witches and pumpkins all over the walls. Weird looking pumpkins shed a red glow over the scene, while the guests were robed either as ghosts or witches. Some of the costumes were splendid and as they moved across either in uncanny silence or speaking in deep supernatural voice, it was a source of unlimited fun and amusement.

One ghost read a thrilling ghost story while a black robed witch served hot broth from a large red pot. In one corner in a tent hid by autumn leaves another old witch told fortunes. Later in the evening the guests unmasked and a delicious sweet course was served.

In Honor of Mrs. Gelsberg.

Mrs. Harry Gelsberg, Anderson's latest bride, was the charming hostess on Friday afternoon when Mrs. Harleston Barton entertained 12 of the young married set at an elegant four course luncheon. The Halloween idea was carried out in the decorations and place cards, while many candles shed their soft radiance over all. Assisting Mrs. Barton in her duties as hostess were Misses Nell Barton and Vina Patrick. The other guests were: Mesdames Keith Prevost, T. L. Coly, Louis Horton, McLean, G. B. Green, Jim Craig, F. E. Todd, Lewis Sanders, Joe Fretwell and Frank Reed.

Mrs. Kinard the Honor Guest.

The largest affair on the week's social calendar was the reception on Friday afternoon given by Mrs. G. W. Chambers and Mrs. A. L. Smethers at the home of the former, in honor of Mrs. J. P. Kinard.

Mrs. Kinard is the wife of Dr. J. P. Kinard, the new head of Anderson college and this was Mrs. Kinard's first introduction to the ladies of Anderson. The front of the house had all been thrown together and beautifully decorated with autumn leaves and chrysanthemums.

Mrs. W. H. Nardin, Mrs. J. M. Pagot, and Mrs. W. W. Sullivan met the guests at the door. In the receiving line were the two hostesses, their honor guest, Mrs. C. S. Sullivan, Mrs. H. H. Watkins, Mrs. R. S. Ligon, Mrs. John F. Vipes, Mrs. Prue Clinkcales. From the receiving line the guests were taken into the dining room by Mrs. Henry Frierson, Mrs. J. S. Archer and Mrs. Lula Hillhouse. Here the decorations were especially pretty, soft red light being used most effectively, with a suggestion here and there of the Halloween season.

The following young ladies, all former musical pupils of Prof. and Mrs. Clinkcales, served: Misses Nellie Pruitt, Annie Bell Dean, Ruth Hambree, Paul Dean, Lois Webb, Ruth Wells, Agatha Spellman and Mrs. Ed. Kinsey. During the afternoon Miss Helen Little, Laurie Sauters, Eleanor Sargent, Tressa McCants and Marie Edmonds, also musical pupils of Mrs. Chambers, furnished music about 300 ladies called during the afternoon.

Two of the pre-nuptial entertainments given in honor of Miss Mary Hodges were the bridge parties given by Misses Antoinette Thomson and Katherine Link on Thursday and Saturday afternoons respectively.

Hodges-Harper.

A pretty home wedding was solemnized on Tuesday evening, October 27, 1914, at 8:30 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jessie Calvert Ellis, when their niece, Miss Mary Gilliam Hodges was married to Dr. William George Harper, the Rev. Sid Brown Harper of Charleston, brother of the groom assisted by Rev. S. O. Cantey, officiating, the ring ceremony being used. Only the relatives and few intimate friends were present. Immediately after the marriage a reception was held attended by a large number of friends. The bride and groom left on the midnight train for a bridal trip, and expect to be at home on North Main street to their friends on their return.

The attractive home was a scene of beauty in its decorations of green and white. Southern smilax was festooned along the picture moulding, doors, and windows in an effective manner, and bowls of gorgeous white chrysanthemums and numberless lighted tapers gave a beautiful finish. The chandeliers and candelabra were decorated in smilax and green and white tulle.

Before the ceremony Miss Lenore Neville Long sang in sweet strains "All For You," "You," and "Dawn," and played "Lohengrin's" "Bridal Chorus" as a signal for the approach of the hour, and played softly during the ceremony going into Mendelssohn's as a recessional.

This wedding was unique and original in conception and beautiful in design, being in tableau. The bridal party was arranged in a circular setting on a carpet of white about the improvised altar in the back parlor when the folding doors were thrown open by Messrs. B. S. and F. C. Hodges, uncles of the bride, and in the brilliant glow of the lights and tapers a beautiful scene was presented. The following were the attendants: Mrs. Clarence Osborne, sister of the groom, dame of honor, handmaiden in modish gown of green charmes with shadow lace, carrying an armful of white carnations; Dr. James Harper, brother of the groom, best man; Miss Katherine Link in white crepe motor carrying white carnations, with Mr. L. W. Sell, Miss Antoinette Thomson, and Miss Lenore Neville Long as bridesmaids in white crepe motor, carrying white carnations, with Mr. W. F. Marshall. The bride and groom stood between two pedestals on which were crystal vases of white chrysanthemums where the ceremony was performed. The bride's girlish beauty was enhanced by a gown of Duchess satin with Princess lace trimmings, court train, crepe chiffon overdress, veil arranged in Juliette cap fashion from orange blossoms, carrying a regulation bouquet of bride's roses and valley lilies.

At the reception Miss Louise McDill and Mr. Frank E. Harrison, Jr., ushered the guests into the living room where the receiving line stood consisting of the bride party, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Ellis, Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Hodges, and Rev. S. B. Harper. From here the guests were ushered into the dining room by Misses Long and Maggie Latimer, where cream and cake in colors—white and green—were served by Misses Mary Klugh, Mary Lawson Link, Mary Quarles Link, Mary Aiken, Mary Smith, Joe DuPre, and Virginia Aiken. White and green mints were served by little Josephine Barnwell, Adair Aiken, Ella Hodges, and Claudia Osborne.

Those assisting in entertaining were: Dr. and Mrs. P. B. Speed, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Barnwell, Hon. and Mrs. Wyatt Aiken, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Long, Rev. and Mrs. S. O. Cantey Mr. and Mrs. B. S. Hodges, Miss Mamie Lou Smith, Mrs. J. A. Harris, Mrs. L. K. Dantzer, Dr. H. K. Aiken and Mr. Sam Harper.

One of the most attractive parts of the house was the broad front veranda which was enclosed with canvas brilliantly lighted, and decorated with pot plants where punch was served by Misses Ada McMillan, Fannie Harris, Messrs. Otto Bristow and H. H. Green. In the library many beautiful presents were displayed.

The out-of-town guests were: Rev. S. B. Harper, Charleston; Dr. H. K. Aiken, Laurens; Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Hodges, Roanoke, Ala.; Messrs. Sam Harper, W. F. Marshall, Mrs. Clarence Osborne and Miss Claudia Osborne of Anderson; Dr. James Harper and Mr. L. W. Sell, Belton; Mrs. J. F. Hodges, Mr. and Mrs. B. S. Hodges and Mrs. L. K. Dantzer of Hodges and Miss Lenore Neville of King of Dues West.

The bride is one of the most popular young women of the city, cordial in manner, and beautiful in character, and her many friends wish for her much happiness. The groom has been a resident of Abbeville for a number of years being connected with Speed's drug store as pharmacist, and is a young man of fine character.

Mrs. J. Wyatt Aiken entertained Wednesday the 21st with a kitchen shower for her cousin, Miss Mary Gilliam Hodges. Mrs. Aiken served a delicious salad course to her 35 guests.—Abbeville Medium.

Dr. and Mrs. W. G. Harper will return from their wedding trip Sunday and will be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Osborne a few days before going to Abbeville.

The Dixie chapter, U. D. C., will meet on Thursday afternoon with Mrs. D. A. Ledbetter at 3 o'clock at her home on the Boulevard. This will be the annual election of officers.

Announcement Party.

Quite an unique and delightful party was given yesterday afternoon by Miss Annabel Dean and Mrs. John Neely at the home of the latter on River street. In keeping with the Halloween season the walls were covered with pictures of black cats, witches and hobgoblins. Beautiful sprays of autumn leaves were everywhere, while the rooms were darkened and red lights made a soft glow everywhere. A short time after the ladies gathered a messenger boy came with a letter for Mrs. Neely and amid intense excitement she opened it. Finding it written in unknown figures she appealed to the ladies present to help her out. None could so she suggested they ask the witch, and led the way into a darkened room. Here sitting by a lantern in long black robes, and high hat sat the witch, who at their request read the following announcement:

"Mrs. Lawrence Dean announce the engagement of her daughter, Fannie, to Mr. John Glenn, the wedding to take place November 24."

This came as a pleasant surprise to all present and the pretty bride-elect received many sincere congratulations and good wishes. The guests were then taken into the dining room and here a delicious two course menu was served. About 15 ladies were present, most of them friends and relatives of the bride-elect. Mr. Glenn is the son of Hon. W. H. Glenn of the city.

Mrs. D. B. Fant of Union has been spending some time here as the guest of her daughters, Mrs. Malcolm McFall and Mrs. Will Fant.

"Little Folks Entertain."

The little folks had their share of Halloween parties in two given yesterday afternoon. Master Jim, Jr. the six year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. H. Craig, celebrated his birthday with 40 little friends. Witches and ghosts are particularly interesting to little folks and they fully enjoyed their happy occasion and left wishing their young hosts many happy returns of the day.

Little Miss Burriss Entertains.

Mr. C. O. Burriss' pretty home on North Main street was the scene of another Halloween party when his young daughter, Miss Louise Burriss entertained in honor of her ninth birthday. About 60 little folks were present, with plenty of ghosts and witches. A fortune teller proved a source of great pleasure to the children. A sweet course was served and each child given little candy hearts, each bearing inscriptions. Small paper black cats were the appropriate souvenirs.

Miss Calhoun to Wed.

Mr. and Mrs. John C. Calhoun of New York announced at a dinner at their house the engagement of their daughter, Miss Julia J. Calhoun, to Baron E. de Nagell, Attache of the Legation of the Netherlands in Washington. Miss Calhoun was introduced here several years ago. She is the great-granddaughter of John C. Calhoun, the distinguished statesman. Baron de Nagell is a son of Baron W. de Nagell, of Bornzeelt, Holland. He has been attached to the diplomatic service of Holland for five years, having served three years in Peking before coming to Washington a year ago. His sister is the wife of Mr. Lorenz, Consul General of Holland in Denmark. The wedding will take place soon.

Dr. Frank E. Harrison of Abbeville was here this week the guest of his sister, Mrs. J. G. Cunningham.

Another Delightful Party.

Another delightful Halloween party for the younger society set was given last night by little Miss Lucia Sullivan, Masters Pat Sullivan and Martin Neely at the home of Mr. W. W. Sullivan. It was a happy and merry set of spooks and witches that gathered in the beautifully decorated parlors, where bright autumn leaves and Jack o' lanterns, made a most attractive decoration. Several hours were very happily spent. Mrs. Sullivan serving a delicious sweet course. The color scheme of yellow and white being prettily carried out.

Halloween at College.

The campus at the college was unusually weird looking last night when all the college spirits grew festive in the early evening by the moonlight.

At dinner the senior class who sit at the "St. Table," presided over by two teachers, caused the lights to be turned off after the rest of the school was seated at tables, and filed in as ghosts, bearing Jack o' lanterns and were seated at their table, which was gaily decorated in the symbols of the occasion.

Soon after dinner, every one, including the entire faculty and the president's family, masked as ghosts and congregated on the athletic field, led by a clown and two witches. There had been placed and lighted a tremendous, jolly bonfire in the center of the field, with several large Jack o' lanterns. As the spirits danced and circled around the glowing fire, real spooky feelings crept up and down many spines. Revelry ran high for perhaps a half hour when up dashed the entire fire department, followed by the usual number of automobiles attendant upon fires. The ghosts enjoyed chasing them off the college grounds.

After these earthy intruders were dispersed, the ghosts reassembled around the fast dying embers, where they listened to stories of other spirits of other days, and the refreshments provided by thoughtful humans. Thus passed Halloween at Anderson college.

Miss Alva Givin of Alabama, who is teacher of science at Greenville Female college, is the guest of Miss Wakefield at the college for the week-end.

Recital at College.

Mr. Witt Z. Macaulay, one of her sons of whom Anderson is justly proud, gave a cello recital at the college Friday evening under the auspices of the College association, and delighted his audience. He is a young artist who promises a bright future in his chosen profession of music, and will add another to the number of prominent musicians who call Anderson "home."

His program was a good one with excellent taste in both the arrangement and choice of selections, and each number was beautifully rendered. The first number, the Beethoven Variations Symphony, was very difficult and Mr. Macaulay interpreted it in good style and with unusual understanding. "The Merry by Faun and others of the Beethoven pieces, were particularly pleasing to the audience, having very beautiful tone effects. The program ended with the brilliant Scherzo by Von Goerns.

Every one was impressed with the earnestness and temperament so evident in the young man, who is without doubt genuinely musical.

Bender, Plank and Coombs, Who Have Played Prominent Parts in World's Series.

(By Associated Press.)

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 31.—Connie Mack, manager of the Philadelphia Athletics, announced today that he had asked waivers on Pitchers Bender, Plank and Coombs.

"I would not have asked for waivers at this time but for the fact that one of them told me he had been dickered with the Federal league," Connie Mack said.

The Philadelphia manager added that one of the pitchers had informed him of receipt of an offer from the Federal league which was so large that he did not think the local management would meet it. He would not disclose the name of the pitcher to whom the offer had been made.

The three pitchers have played prominent parts in world's series baseball games. Plank, who is at his home at Gettysburg, Pa., admitted that he had been made an offer by the Federal league.

25,000 WITNESS FOOTBALL GAME

Harvard Defeats Michigan in Game Almost Devoid of Spectacular Play.

(By Associated Press.)

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Oct. 31.—Harvard defeated Michigan 7 to 0 here today in a football game almost devoid of spectacular play and confined to conservative attack and defense. Twenty-five thousand spectators witnessed 60 minutes of hard fought scrimmaging in which straight football predominated throughout. The general advance was achieved by a series of line plunges and an occasional end run.

Harvard showed to better advantage than the westerners, displaying stronger defense and striking with savage rapidity and skill in the second period when the solitary score of the game was made.

Michigan attempted only one forward pass and this was intercepted. As it further to upset the ante-game forecasts, the Crimson used four, of which three were successfully carried through.

Michigan used a rushing line of attack. The campaign worked well between the 20-yard lines but it lacked the scoring punch once the team had carried the ball within the shadow of the Crimson goal. Harvard twice held Michigan on or inside her five-yard line.

Harvard forced a touchdown and the resultant goal in the second period. Obtaining the ball at mid-field on a Michigan punt, Harvard opened the scoring advance with a series of line plunges and end runs, piercing the Wolverines' line for consistent gains. On Michigan's 35-yard line the western eleven held for two downs. Temporarily checked, Quarterback Logan called for a forward pass, which, perfectly executed, put the ball on the visitor's 19-yard line. Again Harvard went to line bucking and by cleverly mixing covered and delayed passes made the scoring of the touchdown and goal comparatively easy.

With a seven point advantage the Harvard team played a defensive game during a majority of the remaining periods.

It was in the finer points of team play that Michigan lost, for, player for player, the Ann Arbor eleven was fully equal physically to the Cambridge combination. Collectively, however, they failed to move with the same cohesion and smoothness.

Statistical figures show that while Michigan made ten first downs to Harvard's eight, the Crimson gained 183 yards by rushing to the Wolverines' 164. Harvard gained 34 yards with four forward passes, while Michigan's single attempt caused a loss of the ball. In penalties the Ann Arbor team lost 80 yards to Harvard's 20. The victors also punted the ball 430 yards to the losers' 385 yards and ran the ball back to punts 20 yards to five.

EARNED EVERY TOUCHDOWN

University of Virginia Wins Bitterly Contested Battle 20 to 7 Over Vanderbilt.

(By Associated Press.)

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 31.—Out-playing Vanderbilt at almost every stage of today's football game here, the University of Virginia won the bitterly contested battle 20 to 7. Every touchdown was earned. There were no fakes and few penalties. Vanderbilt was penalized half the distance to her goal in the last quarter for sending Curry in twice in that period.

Virginia scored first when shortly after the kickoff the visiting team rushed the ball down the field and Sparr went over for a touchdown. Barker kicked the goal.

In the second period Virginia again hammered its way through the Commodore defense and Sparr went over for another touchdown. Barker missed the goal.

Vanderbilt came back strong in the third quarter. In this period Vanderbilt outplayed Virginia and by a series of line plunges and end runs carried the ball to Virginia's 15-yard line. With a forward pass on drive kick formation Curry crossed the goal. Cody kicked the goal.

After rushing the ball the length of the field in the fourth quarter Mayer went over tackle for Virginia's last touchdown and goal was kicked.

In the second quarter Vanderbilt carried the ball to within one foot of Virginia's goal, but was unable to cross the line in four trials.

Gooch for Virginia was the star of the game.

Curry was Vanderbilt's best ground gainer and made several long runs. Mayer and Barker for Virginia also starred.

ST. LOUIS WANTS WALTER JOHNSON

Says He Has Been Offered More Than $15,000,000—Notifies Washington of Offer.

(By Associated Press.)

FORT SMITH, Ark., Oct. 31.—Walter Johnson, the Washington American pitcher, said tonight that the St. Louis Federalers had offered him "more than $15,000 a year to sign a contract."

"I have notified Washington of the offer and will await their reply," he said. "I think I will close soon, but with whom I am not sure."

A LAST APPEAL TO THE VOTERS

To the Editor of The Intelligencer: Please allow me space in which to call the attention of the public to this last appeal so necessary for the general election. I have some cause, while Dr. Walker's first appeal of two weeks ago has been endorsed, to make another and last appeal for the time so near the election as to create good interest in the hearts of South Carolina.

It is of importance now that the voters of South Carolina are again asked to support at the general election on Tuesday, November 3rd, the two amendments so proposed to the state constitution, in a joint resolution by the General Assembly at the last meeting, that the Cedar Spring school for the Deaf, located at Cedar Spring, S. C., be in one amendment removed from the class of penal and charitable institutions, and then in the other amendment be classified with the educational state-supported institutions.

The joint resolution for the classification originated with Representative Jesse W. Boyd, of Spartanburg, S. C., on his own initiative, and backed up by Dr. Walker's suggestion. The resolution was passed at the general assembly, and the Committee on Judiciary, to whom it was referred, passed that resolution to submit to the voters for ratification at the general election.

It has been seen fit to emphasize the public upon the proper constitutional classification by the following facts: (1) The education for the deaf in the state on such a high scale with the other best state schools, and the overshadowing of the old idea of charity.

(2) The school already supported as are the other state institutions so classified, by the public tax.

(3) The possible advent of one of the great issues of education now in view,—the state school compulsory education or attendance law that would apply to the deaf as well for such a school properly classified as educational.

(4) The state association already the step to the improvement for further welfare. Other benefits in view too many to make out here,—as the public might know whatever the benefits are for the deaf, so are the voters requested to explain the meaning of the vote to the ignorant.

Remember to the point how to vote right on the two amendments, very necessary to each other. Cast two separate ballots with the explanation given thereon for each of the two amendments and the words: "For Amendment—Yes."

You will be thanked with far gratitude for the wisdom of the vote. Favor support and adopt the amendments, and will the amendments carry; and at last, all the cause of education in South Carolina's cause. WALTER GLOVER, School Graduate.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—George-town defeated the West Virginia Wesleyan football team here today 27 to 0. The visitors were unable to penetrate Georgetown's line and made but three first downs. The first half ended 7 to 0, three touchdowns coming in the last two quarters.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Oct. 31.—Navy met a tartar here today in North Carolina A. and M. and gained a two-point victory 16 to 14 in the most warmly contested game played on the Navy field in a long time.

The margin of victory was due to a blocked punt which fell behind the A. and M. goal line and was recovered by the visitors for a safety.

Clemson Defeats Citadel.

CHARLESTON, S. C., Oct. 31.—Playing straight football, Clemson defeated Citadel here today, 14 to 0. Touchdowns were made in the second and third quarters by Bonister and McGill on over-tackle plays. WILLIAMSTON, Oct. 28.—The first killing frost of the season visited us Wednesday morning. All vegetation is killed and many fear that late cotton is damaged by a very severe frost, and there is hundreds of acres here and in neighboring communities that have never had a boll picked in them. In fact, fully one-half the cotton crop has hardly begun to open. Some few who had late corn will also suffer severely from the frost.

Shelton school opened last Monday morning under very favorable conditions, with Prof. Meredith and his assistant, Miss Van, in charge.

A little child of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Massey, formerly of this section, but now of Plaquemine, died at the home of his parents last Sunday and was buried here on the day following. The parents have many friends and relatives here who deeply sympathize with them in their bereavement.

This section was shocked last Wednesday to learn of the death of R. C. Mullikin of Beaverdam. Mr. Mullikin was well known here, having visited Mason and Woodmen and his remains were interred with Masonic orders on Thursday in Beaverdam cemetery of which church he was a member.

W. L. Link and family of McElmoye were visitors at the home of J. D. Moore last Sunday.

Misses Evie and Lolo Richey visited at the home of A. Z. Bryson last Saturday night.

B. F. Whitaker, one of our most prominent farmers, says that it is his intention to quit raising cotton and turn his farm into a stock farm. He recently sold twenty-two pigs from two sows for $110. At present he has nine hogs fattening for this winter's killing. Mr. Whitaker raises only Duroc and proposes to keep them up to the standard.

A. M. Martin and family spent Sunday with the family of Dolphus Murphy of Hubbard.

Everybody who attended the Belton Fair, came back highly pleased, especially A. B. Pines, whose horse won in every contest in which she was entered with the exception of one, that of light draft animals.

Dr. Jay Hollis of Pendleton was a visitor here last Tuesday.

Mrs. P. M. Mahaffey spent this week with relatives at Belton.

C. W. Murphy is one of our most successful young farmers. Chess is a frequent visitor to Anderson sometimes making two trips a week, any way. Every time he makes a trip he carries with him enough produce such as butter, eggs, chickens, potatoes, etc., to pay him for his time. By doing this he has run his farm this year on a cash basis and has a nice balance to his credit. Why can't others do as well?
